input

Function that allows the user to enter information through the keyboard when executed, while giving an instruction about the requested entry. The code will continue to run after the user performs the action.

```python
input("Write your name: ")
>> Write your name: |

Waiting for user input (keyboard)

```python
print("Your name is " + input("Write your name: "))

>> Write your name: Federico
>> Your name is Federico
```
